

Fig. S1. Principal coordinate analysis (PCoA) of bacterial and fungal community composition based on unweighted and weighted UniFrac distances. (A) Bacterial communities were compared across visits within the control and experimental sides. No significant differences were detected by PERMANOVA or dispersion tests. (B) Fungal communities showed the same pattern, with no significant differences across visits in either side.